Negotiators meet in marathon session

By KAY DeBORD
Roman Staff Writer

Negotiators for the Romulus Board of Education and the Romulus Education Association (REA) plan to meet in a marathon "lock-in" session tomorrow until the current teacher contract conflict is settled.

The conflict has delayed the opening of school as teachers are "withholding their services."

A "locked room" challenge was issued to the negotiators Friday night at a public meeting set up to question contract progress.

The challenge was issued asking the

REA representatives offered to negotiate 'any time, any place, right now!'

negotiators to demonstrate their concern for the welfare of children in the school district after a lengthy question-and-answer period. It was accepted by the REA representatives who offered to enter negotiations "any time, any place, right now!"

Board representatives said they were unable to speak for the board negotiators.

James Garfield, assistant superintendent, yesterday said that the situation could be totally different before tomorrow. The teams met in negotiations yesterday afternoon following an unproductive session held last Wednesday.

Wages, a change in grievance procedures, fringe benefits and a new life insurance program are the areas of difference holding up settlement of the contract.

Garfield said the board had offered an increase of 9.5 per cent over a two-year period, at an estimated cost of $340,000 to the district.

The teachers want more than an 11 per cent increase over the two-year period.

Currently, the pay scale for teachers in the district starts at $8,500 for a teacher with a bachelor's degree and no experience and goes to $16,575 for a teacher with a master's degree and nine years experience.

The two-year package offered by the board ranges from $8,825 to $14,760 for a bachelor's degree and $9,930 to $17,325 for a master's degree in 1973-74 and in 1974-75, $9,200 to $15,390 for a bachelor's degree and $10,350 to $18,060 for a master's degree.

An REA spokesman yesterday said that unless they had the assurance that Garfield had the authority to speak for the board in negotiations or that Robert Veracruysse, chief negotiator was present for the "lock in" tomorrow, they would be unable to participate.

Garfield needs school board authority before he can speak for the negotiating team.

ON THE LOOKOUT — The Wayne County Sheriff's Department will add two newly-purchased helicopters to its existing fleet of patrol vehicles to round out the department's law enforcement services to county residents.

Helicopters to assist in law enforcement

BY CAROL THOMAS
Roman Staff Writer

Would-be lawbreakers in Wayne County soon will have more to look out for than pursuing patrol car lights and sirens. They'll have to look upward, too.

The Wayne County Sheriff's Department will add two newly-purchased helicopters to its existing fleet of patrol vehicles to round out the department's law enforcement services to county residents. The helicopters arrived nearly a month ago, but the department hopes to have its five pilots ready to go by mid-October, according to Wayne County Sheriff William Lucas.

"We started recruiting pilots nearly four years ago in hopes that we'd have these helicopters," Lucas told reporters at a press reception Friday morning.

THE HELICOPTERS were purchased with federal funds through the Office of Criminal Justice in Lansing from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration and special saturation patrol funds from the same source, Lucas added. The Wayne County Board of Commissioners also assisted in getting the grants.

Western Wayne County is taking part in a study which will utilize the helicopters, Lucas said.

In conjunction with the Downriver Detroit area, they will alternate the use of the choppers between Western Wayne County and the downriver area for routine patrol. Then crime statistics will be compared.

"We hope the statistics will show that the helicopter patrols will make a marked difference in the crime rate where they are used," Lucas said.

THE HELICOPTERS also will be dispatched through the Wayne County Sheriff's Department for pursuit and surveillance assignments in any part of the county.

Pilots warn

Spotted lawbreakers 'just won't get away'

"Once we've got somebody spotted, the only way they can get away is through dense woods," the Wayne County Sheriff's Department's new helicopter pilots agreed.

The five men had been training for four or five months to get ready for the delivery of the sheriff's department's two new helicopters nearly a month ago.

Once they arrived, they spent their hours training as they had in loaner aircraft from the company that supplied the helicopters.

IN NEARLY 60 more flight-hours for four of the newly-trained pilots, they'll have full commercial accreditation. Six months ago, three of the five officers didn't know how to fly at all. One could fly a regular fixed-wing aircraft, and one was a sheriff's department officer who had been a helicopter pilot seasoned in Vietnam.

But after training and working together with Thomas Davenport, the Vietnam-trained pilot, all of the new crew have nothing but enthusiasm for the air patrols they soon will begin.

"One helicopter is worth eight road patrol cars in a chase," said one of the pilots, Lewis Bryant. "Once we spot them, there's no way to get away in a car, at least."

The small two-man helicopters are fast and quiet, Bryant added. They are capable of traveling at 80 miles per hour and are equipped with 3.8 million-candlepower lights that can change total darkness into daylight for a whole city block.

EACH HELICOPTER is worth $50,000 and a single aluminum rotor blade costs $1,500 to replace, Wayne County Sheriff William Lucas told reporters Friday. They are headquartered at the airport division but are dispatched through the road patrol office in Westland.

Radio communications between the base, helicopter pilots and patrol cars can keep the pursuers on the ground posted of the whereabouts of the pursuee, Lewis said.

"If we can respond quickly and can get there quickly, there's a proven 80 per cent chance that we'll apprehend the person we're chasing," Bryant said.

State school superintendent urges teachers back to work

By WES THORP
Enterprise-Roman
Lansing Bureau

The State Superintendent of Public Instruction yesterday urged striking teachers to return to their classrooms while contract negotiations are being conducted.

In a letter which Dr. John W. Porter sent to officials of 27 school districts which are closed because of strikes, he warned of consequences which could result from lengthy impasse in negotiations.

The strike districts face the difficulties in several areas according to Porter. THESE INCLUDE a state law which stipulates that a school district provides 180 days of student instruction and which provide the minimum number of hours of instruction for each student.

If the strikes continue, Porter warned that the school districts would be in position of falling below the statutory minimums.

But the most critical situation is the upcoming fourth Friday count of students in each school district, according to Porter.

This count which is to be conducted on Sept. 28 is the basis for the distribution of state aid to local school districts. If the count is extremely low then the school districts would face a reduction in state aid, Porter said.

IT IS WITHIN the context of these responsibilities that I urge local boards of education and teacher organizations to begin instruction while negotiations continue," Porter said. "If there is no fourth Friday count, a school district, otherwise eligible, will by law suffer the loss of state aid payments needed to educate the children of the districts."

He said there is a possibility of taking legal action to force the striking teachers back to work. However, Porter would not set a time limit before taking such an action.

In sending the letters, Porter said he was following a policy adopted by the state board of education in 1967.

"The essence of this policy is that all parties continue negotiations while schools are in operation," Porter said.

"This office has not attempted, or will it attempt, to influence the outcome of such negotiations."

THE SCHOOL districts which have not reopened

because of teacher strikes include:

Van Buren, Inkster, Flint, Romulus, Northville, Allen Park, Lincoln Park, Southgate, Port Huron.

City council approves addition to sheriff road patrol service

Romulus citizens will see their police protection increased by one-third within the next few weeks, following the Romulus City Council's approval of the addition of a fourth eight-man unit of the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol to the city's full-time force.

The council unanimously voted Thursday, to spend the extra $207,000 required to put another car on duty in the city for 24-hours a day, seven days a week.

The approval brings the city's expenditures for police protection to $828,000 this fiscal year, compared to $714,000 at this time last year. Last year, the city only had two full-time units on the roads of Romulus.

GROUNDWORK FOR adding the fourth unit to the road patrol was prepared late last spring, when the city council agreed to add a third unit to the city's force and to consider adding a fourth unit in the 1973-74 city budget.

The new budget included the money needed for a fourth unit, but the council did not take action on approving its expenditure until now.

The addition brings the strength of the city's police force to 32 officers, including one officer for each car during the day shift, two officers per car during the afternoon and midnight shifts and replacements for leave days.

"This addition brings police protection in Romulus to a new high," said Mayor Hyle Carmichael. "Our citizens will realize a direct improvement in the service because it will take less time for police to respond to calls with an extra unit on the road."

"IN ADDITION, it continues the city's cooperation with the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol, which includes use of its detectives, youth officers, its crime research bureau and other services included in the county which a city alone can't provide."

Carmichael said the city still will realize the benefit of additional sheriff's protection at no extra cost.

The sheriff department has agreed to route patrol cars heading for duty in Sumpter and Huron Townships through Romulus as an extra crime deterrent.

A timetable for adding the fourth unit to the road patrol is being prepared.

Mayor says housing for senior is his goal

While urging a "positive community spirit to move Romulus ahead" which would include keeping his slate in office, Romulus Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael released an "IQ Slate 12-point Priority List" for Romulus' development. Carmichael said a top priority on the list will be "senior citizen housing," but that his goal will never be reached unless "we stick together to continue the many programs and projects begun during the first city administration.

"Only a little more than three years ago Romulus became a city, and it is right in the middle of a transition from a township government to the mayor-council form now," Carmichael said.

"IT WOULD BE unwise to change 'horses in the middle of the stream' just when Romulus is getting its feet on the ground as a city," he added.

One of the programs he promises the voters is senior citizen housing.

"We in the IQ Slate (Citizens for Integrity and Quality in Romulus Government Slate) have discussed the need for a new 80 to 100-unit senior citizen housing complex to be built in the city," he said. "Many of our nearby suburbs

ENTHUSIASM FOR AN UP-IN-THE-AIR JOB — Wayne County Sheriff's Department has added two helicopters to its fleet of earthbound road patrol cars to give county residents both land and air protection. Lewis Bryant, an eight-year veteran on the department, was chosen to be trained for the pilot's job. Bryant had never flown an airplane before, but he explained to reporters that the new job has a patrol car beat right from the start. He lives in Romulus.

Post Office introduces stamps by mail program

Stamps by mail, a customer service program successfully tested in selected cities nationwide, was introduced at the Romulus Post Office Monday.

Postmaster W. J. Laginess explained that the new service permits customers to purchase stamps and stamped envelopes through the mail by check or money order.

Leaflets spelling out the details of the new service will be distributed to area households and small businesses during the next few days.

The postmaster said: "This service will be of great benefit to all our customers and especially to shut-ins, the infirm and persons whose work schedule precludes trips to the post office. It will enable them to satisfy their postal needs simply, rapidly and inexpensively from their own homes."

Customers may order one or more of the following: roll of 100 eight-cent stamps, $8; sheet of 100 eight-cent stamps, $8; two books of eight-cent stamps, $4; one book of eleven cent and two books of eight-cent stamps, $5; 50 stamped eight-cent envelopes (6 1/2" long), $5 and 50 stamped eight-cent envelopes (10" long), $5. A 40-cent fee will be charged to defray the cost of two-way postage, internal processing of checks and other costs associated with this new service.

Pre-trial hearing set for area 'pot' suspects

A pre-trial hearing has been set tentatively for Sept. 27 for four persons who recently were arraigned on charges of possession of marijuana with intent to deliver.

The four persons include a Huron Township grandfather, his son and grandson and an Ann Arbor resident.

The four defendants arrested recently by Wayne County Sheriff deputies on a Huron Township farm, stood mute when arraigned before District Court Judge James B. Stone.

The court entered pleas of not guilty for the defendants and ordered cash bonds of $1,000 for each. A pre-trial hearing has been set tentatively for Sept. 27.

AWAITING further court proceedings are Edmon Woodrow Johnson, 59, his son, Edmon Johnson Jr., 34, both of Huron Township; a Detroit grandson and Robert Allem Oler, 27, of Ann Arbor.

The maximum penalty for the charge is four years in jail and a $2,000 fine.

Deputies said they arrested the men in Huron Township south of Detroit Metropolitan Airport early Sunday for growing the alleged marijuana in a field behind their home.

Deputies said they found about 2,150 pounds of alleged marijuana curing in the attic and in a shed behind the house. Another three-fourth of an acre of alleged marijuana was growing between rows of sweet corn behind the barn, they added.

THE ALLEGED marijuana worth about $400,000 was confiscated and hauled away according to the deputies who said the land was graded and the remaining roots and stems burned off.

Police said the alleged marijuana was discovered originally by a man who told police he became curious after he was chased from the property by a man with a gunshot.

Township approves 1973 tax

A resolution formally setting the township's property tax assessment for the 1973 year was unanimously approved by the Van Buren Township Board of Trustees. The property tax assessed for township operation and purposes is a continuation of a total tax of 7.40 mills per $1,000 assessed property evaluation. The levied millage on a state equalized evaluation of $105,173,030 for the township will net $778,280 in property taxes.

The levied millage consists of allocated millage of one mill, extra voted millage of four mills for water, two mills for assessed sewer and voted millage of .40 of a mill for the Peoples Community Hospital Authority.

The 16 mm sound film was recorded at the Law Middle School in Detroit's Region 6, utilizing a teacher and students from the school. The film depicts several beginning classroom exercises in values clarification.

Darte will be using the film as part of its workshops and seminars with local school districts beginning this fall.

Romulus Help Center to be in full operation next month

Area residents can expect the Romulus Help Center to be in full operation by mid-October, following the Romulus City Council's unanimous approval of a $23,000 grant to the drug rehabilitation facility. The council unanimously voted last week to approve the funds following a request from the Help Center to pick up the city's share of costs to obtain a $91,200 federal grant. "I think it's great," said

Leonard Melnick, director of the Help Center. "We're very pleased with the action—even more pleased it was unanimous, because it shows that our elected officials are behind our efforts to fight the evils of drug abuse."

INCLUDED IN THE $23,000 city expenditure is $1,000 already approved by the city and another $6,000 for renovation of the Help Center located on Goddard Road east of Wayne Road.

Work is expected to begin within the relatively near future to make the Help Center a better place to combat drug abuse, Melnick said. Included in the new building lay-out will be medical facilities, counseling and meeting rooms.

Also included will be a total security alarm system to protect dosages of methadone expected to be kept on the premises.

"We're going to meet state and federal requirements for construction so we can obtain a license to operate both as a medical clinic and a methadone distribution center for a methadone detoxification program," Melnick said.

THE DETOXIFICATION program, once implemented, will be limited to 21-days, with former heroin addicts receiving decreasing dosages of methadone until they are able to shake their physical dependency on both heroin and methadone.

"We don't intend to satisfy someone's drug habit for an unlimited amount of time," Melnick added. "This is a temporary measure for the heroin addict to ease his withdrawal from the drug."

Once renovation is complete, the Help Center will use the $91,000 federal grant to hire a full-and part-time professional staff to implement the counseling and medical programs being designed for the Help Center.

Despite a lack of funding, the Help Center has been operating on an informal basis since Melnick took office early last month.

"WE'VE ALREADY had some walk-in crisis counseling cases," he said. "But we aren't geared to undertake our other programs of detoxification assistance for heroin addicts and drug education."

"We need the renovation for the drug program and we'll have to wait until the Romulus School District gets through some of its problems before undertaking the education program."

In the meantime, Melnick is busy designing the three-part drug rehabilitation program and screening applicants for jobs in the crisis center.

At its full complement, the center will have at least two nurses on hand, trained counselors, a medical advisor and several street workers who will go to the areas frequented by drug users to try and bring the word of the drug abuse center where it is most needed.

For examinations

Center hires medical advisor

A medical advisor has been hired for work at the Romulus Help Center.

He is Dr. Ross McConnell, 47, the plant physician at the Ford Wayne Assembly Plant in Wayne.

Dr. McConnell will be doing physical examinations on persons utilizing the center's facilities and laboratory work for the Help Center. In addition, he will work with the nursing staff and supervise the Help Center's methadone detoxification program, scheduled to begin sometime in late October or November.

"WE ARE FORTUNATE to get a man of Dr. McConnell's background," Help Center Director Leonard Melnick said. "He has a long list of credentials in working with community-oriented health programs - something we consider a necessity for working in the Romulus program."

Prior to coming to the Help Center on a part-time basis, Dr. McConnell worked in the Ford Wayne Assembly Plant alcoholism research program as well as being the plant's physician.

He also has worked as a physician at a Ford plant in New Jersey and was director of public health for Bergen County, N.J.

He was a member of a medical partnership covering Ohio and Indiana and operated a Glaucoma Clinic in New York.

DR. McCONNELL also was director of research for a traffic epidemiology in Pennsylvania - a program designed to find the causes of traffic accidents.

Besides holding his medical doctor's degree, Dr. McConnell also is the holder of a law degree and has had some experiences in psychiatry.

"Dr. McConnell's well-rounded background in public health can do nothing but benefit the effectiveness of the program in Romulus," Melnick said.

Until the Help Center's drug rehabilitation program is underway, Dr. McConnell will be working as a consultant to Melnick in the design of the center's comprehensive drug detoxification program.

By paper shortage

Enterprise-Roman may be affected

Many Enterprise-Roman readers are aware of the current shortage of newsprint both in the United States and abroad. But readers may not know a very basic free enterprise principle is at work in this situation.

The supply has not kept up with the demand.

Nearly 70 per cent of the newsprint consumed by U.S. newspapers comes from Canada, a major supplier of the world's newsprint. Demand from U.S. and foreign economies has outstripped the capacity of both the older Canadian and newer U.S. newsprint mills.

RECENT MILL and rail strikes in Canada has added to the problem of adequately supply the demand.

As a result, Enterprise, readers may be noticing a few changes in editions.

If the reader's favorite comic or feature column comes up missing, the reader can be sure that it has been left out of the paper intentionally to help alleviate the newsprint shortage problem.

The Enterprise-Roman believes the community and readers will be best served by having a smaller edition than no edition at all. Readers also may find that spare copies of the Enterprise-Roman will not be available at newsstands at the end of the day.

DURING the shortage, the Enterprise-Roman will make every effort to provide readers with the same top news coverage as in the past.

The management at the Enterprise-Roman asks for the reader's patience, while the newspaper attempts to conserve the current limited availability of newsprint.

Commission OKs issue of ed bonds

The Michigan Municipal Finance Commission has approved the issuance of $11.5 million of 1973 School Building and Site Bonds for the Romulus Community School District.

State Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley, commission chairman, said: "The proceeds of the bond issue will be used to erect, furnish and equip three new elementary schools and one junior high school; to acquire portable classroom buildings; to re-equip existing school buildings; to acquire additional school sites and to improve existing and new school sites."

The bonds are payable from general ad valorem taxes to be levied without limitation as to rate of interest or amount.

The following fees are to be paid from the bond proceeds: bond attorney, $13,625; local attorney, $1,375 and financial consultant, $6,750.

Area woman has chance at million

Two area lottery winners will get a shot at the 30 million-to-one odds in Michigan's sixth millionaire drawing in Mt. Clemens on Sept. 27.

They are Michael Austin of Inkster and Sylvia Perecki of Romulus.

Miss Michigan, Sherri Agnello of St. Clair Shores, will open the envelope determining the sixth lottery millionaire at Kurz's Heidelberg Restaurant.

The 120 contestants in the sixth millionaire drawing were determined in an elimination drawing Thursday from a field of 120,000 winners of the weekly $25 prize.

Lottery Commissioner Gus Harrison said Miss Michigan will be joined onstage for the drawing by Mt. Clemens Mayor Abraham Levine; Panax Corporation President

John P. McGoff; Jim Brown, vice-president of Panax and general manager of the Macomb Daily, which helped arrange the drawing.

It will be held in conjunction with Mt. Clemens' 175th anniversary celebration and the annual Oktoberfest at the restaurant. Owner George Kurz said the public may attend the drawing free of charge. The drawing and the Oktoberfest will be held in a large tent in the restaurant parking lot.

Each of the 120 contestants in the millionaire drawing is guaranteed a $1,000 prize as a semifinalist.

There will be seven prizes of $5,000 one each of $50,000 and $100,000, before Miss Michigan selects the big $1 million prize winner.

To restore public confidence

Sander Levin voices a thesis for integrity

By DON HOENSHELL, Lansing Bureau Chief

LANSING — Political people have got to take themselves to the woodshed to achieve campaign spending reform and restore public confidence in the system.

The people can't act beyond turning the rascals out, a procedure that has too often failed.

That is the thesis of Sander M. Levin, the unannounced Democratic candidate for governor, former state Senator, former Democratic State Chairman and the voice of reason in residence.

His thesis is that politicians, themselves, must reform their own system and that the man on the street is immune to promises and public pleadings of integrity.

"THUS...THE MAIN question is not whether there are serious problems to resolve, or ways to respond effectively, but whether there exists the will to act," he said.

"This will be unlikely to be exercised if it insists upon massive public pressure. My impression from talking quietly to citizens...is that the public is skeptical that reforms would come even if individual citizens would speak up and organize."

'The public is skeptical that reforms would come...'

Levin has sat in the Senate years to hear the floor argument that "I haven't had any letters from back home on the need for this...."

The tragedy is that, while the people back home did indeed have a view, they had no confidence from the record that their voices would be heard in Lansing.

LEVIN FIGHTS with the critics of the Watergate investigation that exposure of democracy's weaknesses weakens the system.

"I urge that it does not demean the strengths of this country's democratic process to acknowledge its weaknesses," he said. "Indeed, reforming the American system is a way of protecting it...."

And, indeed, the constant exposure of the deeds of the knaves and charlatans in both major parties has built pressure on politicians at all levels to exercise the will to reform.

In Michigan, the crusade is growing, after a start which smacked of coverup and tokenism.

THE ORIGINAL birth of the bipartisan Senate committee, before which Levin appeared, was an attempt to draw attention away from legislative junkies. The fear that its recommendations won't go far enough stems from past reforms that have been more public relations than real.

Former Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh, most likely to be Levin's opponent in the Democratic primary for governor, has proposed a Sunshine Law for Michigan.

This law would open the candidate's books before and after the election to public view.

The Senate committee is already studying some of the ideas of both Levin and Cavanagh. Gov. William G. Milliken is borrowing from everybody and will have his own campaign financing reform package.

CAMPAIGN FINANCING laws haven't been changed substantially in years and now are considered to be hilarious, if they weren't so tragically deficient.

Levin said that in 1952 the cost of all campaigns in the nation were estimated at $140 million. The cost rose to between $240 and $300 million in 1968. A single minute of prime time on one Detroit television station now costs as much as $2,500.

He also calls for before and after accounting of campaign spending and contributions, comprehensive and uniform reports, and limits on spending and contributions from individuals.

The value of Watergate and other hanky panky charged to Democrats in the past — as bad as the deeds and the consequences appears to be — is the crusades for reform flowing from all directions.

Levin is absolutely correct that politicians have got to reform themselves before the system suffers irreparable damage...

Report the polluters

Belleville Lake plan deserves full support

The long-awaited restocking of Belleville Lake got underway this week with drainage of the lake — a project destined to serve recreation needs for surrounding communities.

More important is the knowledge that the restocking means good game fish will replace the trash fish variety — which should be good news to area fishermen.

And if you think that's good news, the best is yet to come...the total cost of drainage and restocking the lake will be assumed by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

According to state and local authorities, the lake drainage and game fish restocking will be worth more than $1.5 million in recreation to Western Wayne County.

While we applaud the game fish project, we remind that the project was long overdue — and should have been completed at a much earlier date had the state followed some of its own priority guidelines.

Another aspect worthy of comment is knowing that the community will be allowed to take part in the coordinating phase of the drainage-restocking project.

John Barber, president of the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce, informs The Enterprise-Roman that the state extended the community involvement offer — which also deserves merit.

Once the lake project is completed we would also urge area enforcement officials to crack down against lake polluters.

Belleville Lake is no place for the dumping of debris. Local marine patrols during the summer months attempt to keep the polluters away — thus we call upon area sportsmen and women who find fishing a good sport to report the polluters to the proper authorities.

And unless citizen participation is practiced, the game fish plan will have been in vain.

STILL A PLACE FOR YOUNG IDEAS

No-fault will speed 'payment' to victim

You must have it...new plan is compulsory auto insurance

Editor's Note: The following Associated Press report on Michigan's new no-fault compulsory insurance plan is reprinted from The Daily Eagle—and is must reading for area motorists.

By PETE YOST

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Unless the courts throw up a roadblock sought by the trial lawyers, no-fault auto insurance will go into effect Oct. 1 for the state's estimated five million motorists.

No-fault is compulsory. You must have it.

No-fault insurance is designed to speed payment of damages to an accident victim, who would collect from his insurance company, regardless of who is to blame.

The plan is aimed at avoiding lengthy and costly court battles.

When you buy no-fault, you protect yourself and your immediate family. If you already have insurance, no-fault's provisions automatically will be added to your policy. They will be in effect at no extra charge until your policy expires.

If you are one of the 350,000 drivers who pay $45 into the State Uninsured Motorist Fund each year or one of the estimated 200,000 uninsured motorists who have been evading the fund, see an insurance agent.

You will no longer be able to pay into the state uninsured fund. If you get caught on the road without insurance once no-fault is in effect, you could be fined $500, jailed for one year and lose your driver's license and plates.

Don't expect bargain prices under no-fault.

In Massachusetts, the first state to adopt a compulsory no-fault plan, insurance rates for the average driver have not gone down. Effects of the Massachusetts plan are not as far-reaching as those in the Michigan plan. The official position of the insurance industry in Michigan is that it's too early to tell what effect no-fault will have on insurance rates.

No-fault insurance policies will contain three mandatory coverages:

—Personal Protection Insurance, also referred to as personal injury protection, covering you or a member of your family who is injured or killed in an accident. It is the key coverage from which no-fault gets its name because it pays two types of benefits without regard to who is at fault for an injury. The benefits apply anywhere in the U.S. or Canada.

The benefits pay 100 per cent of medical and hospital expenses resulting from an auto accident. The amount is unlimited and is paid for life if necessary and includes costs of physical rehabilitation. Hospital accommodations are limited to semi-private rooms, unless special or intensive care is required.

The second benefit is a maximum of $36,000 for income loss. The income loss benefit pays you 85 per cent of your earnings, a maximum of $1,000 a month in benefits for up to three years.

Insurance benefits are taxfree.

If you earn $150 per week, you would receive $127.50 a week in benefits. If you earn $200 a week, you would receive $170 a week in benefits. If you earn $1,176 per month, you would receive the $1,000 a month maximum.

If you are a housewife injured in an accident, no-fault pays $20 a day to hire substitute help in the home to cook meals and care for children. The $20-a-day figure may be combined with compensation for work loss, but in any case it cannot exceed $1,000 a month.

If you are killed in an accident, your family will receive the lost income benefits you would have received—85 per cent of your income up to $1,000 per month for three years from the date of the accident. If you or a member of your family is killed in an accident, a maximum of $1,000 is provided for funeral and burial expenses.

Any money you receive from Social Security or workmen's compensation will be subtracted from your personal injury no-fault benefits. But you can collect duplicate benefits for whatever your Blue Cross or sickness and accident benefits cover.

An optional deductible in your no-fault policy would reduce your premium and eliminate some or all of the duplication of benefits.

—Property Protection Insurance is the second of the three mandatory no-fault coverages. It will cover you for damage you do to a parked car or any property up to $1 million. This coverage won't pay for damage to any moving vehicle or to your own car. You cannot sue to collect, a fact which has brought criticism to Michigan's no-fault law.

If you want protection for your own car, you have to buy optional collision coverage, the same as you do under current law. Otherwise, under no-fault, you pay for damage to your car out of your own pocket, regardless of who is at fault in the accident. If you damage property outside Michigan, you can be sued.

—Residual Liability Coverage, the third mandatory coverage under no-fault, protects you against lawsuits arising from accidents occurring outside Michigan and accidents in Michigan which exceed no-fault benefits.

If you damage property or injure other persons in an out-of-state accident, you receive protection from residual liability.

The current minimum limits still will be in effect under no-fault residual liability—$10,000 for property damage, $20,000 per injured person and $40,000 per accident.

No-fault covers trucks, cars, trailers, three-wheel motorcycles, but not two-wheel motorcycles or bicycles.

Motorcyclists are not covered under no-fault. However, if you are a motorcyclist you will be entitled to most no-fault benefits if you carry a no-fault policy on another vehicle or if you are involved in an accident with a vehicle covered by no-fault.

Motorcyclists still should carry liability insurance as they do now.

Other special rules on no-fault:

—If you are in a cab or airport limousine or car owned by your employer, you would collect your benefits from the insurer of that car, not yours.

—If you are a pedestrian who doesn't drive and you don't have a relative with a no-fault policy and you are injured by a hit-and-run driver, you are protected by an assigned claims fund. It is financed by all automobile insurance companies to take care of special cases.

—If you are hurt while riding in someone else's car, you still collect from your own insurance company.

—Insurance companies must pay 12 per cent interest and reasonable attorney's fees on any payment more than 30 days overdue. The insurance company must pay what is reasonably proved. Copies of any bills and a claim form signed by you giving the details of the accident and the benefits you claim constitute reasonable proof.

—You CAN collect for damages for pain and suffering, but not from your own insurance company. You would have to show the other person was at fault—and then prove that there was "death, serious impairment of body function or permanent serious disfigurement." If you are sued for pain and suffering for an accident in Michigan involving serious injury, your auto no-fault policy will protect you.

The differences between current "tort action" law as applied to auto insurance and no-fault insurance can be shown through the following example:

John Smith is driving through an intersection when another car runs a red light, smashes into Smith's car and Smith is hospitalized with serious injuries.

Smith, under current law, may be able to receive payment for car damages and hospitalization if he has the necessary coverage or if he can prove he was not at fault in the accident.

If he does not have the necessary coverage or if the guilty driver's insurance company will not admit fault, Smith must go to court to collect for car damages and hospitalization. Smith can sue for "pain and suffering" and he can sue for income loss as well.

Under no-fault, all of Smith's medical expenses are paid by his insurance company and he also is entitled to 85 per cent of his regular earnings up to $1,000 a month for three years after the accident.

Closed primary would threaten voting rights

By MITCH KEHETIAN
Editor

If Michigan's "open primary" system is scrapped in favor of the so-called "closed" primary—then we'll lose another round to the party bosses and Big Brother Government.

The leaders of the two major political part units tell us a closed primary will stop cross-overs from attempting to raise havoc in another party's primary election.

Well...I disagree.

THE AMERICAN ELECTION process does not belong to the Democrats, nor the Republicans—primary elections included. The primary election belongs to the people.

Should the State Legislature adopt the proposed closed primary concept, persons voting in a partisan primary contest would be forced to identify party affiliation.

Though I believe every man and woman must be willing to take a stand on the issues of the day, forcing political party identity during a primary election smacks me of party bossism of our secret election process.

Democratic State Chairman Morley Winograd and Republican State Chairman William F. McLaughlin would have you believe that a closed primary would blunt a repeat of what happened in Michigan in 1972 when Republicans and Independents gave George Wallace 51 percent of the presidential primary vote. Wallace would have won on any ticket that year.

OTHER PROPONENTS of the closed primary preach: "Let the party's decide which of their candidates will face each other in a general election." I disagree.

I agree, however, with the position taken by GOP Floor Leader Dennis O. Cawthorne on the open versus closed primary question.

Cawthorne warns that being forced to identify party label will reduce independent citizen participation in politics.

In today's changing vote pattern, Americans find themselves voting Democrat, Republican and sometimes for the lesser political party candidates—and they do so because of the man or woman seeking office...not the party label.

ONE BOAST I HAVE over my cousins in the Soviet Union is that in America I can vote in secrecy, and that no one has the right and authority to question my party affiliation when I walk up to the ballot box.

But it appears Winograd and McLaughlin feel their respective political party units should have the "Big Brother" authority to question my party affiliation at primary election time.

This form of "ism" voting may be the rule in other states in America, but it has no place in Michigan's election process—and for that matter, anywhere else in the only free democratic society in the world.

SHOULD THE CLOSED PRIMARY become the "in thing" in American politics, one day when your child grows up—he may have to identify his politics on general election day too. That's how it starts...a little at a time under the guise of "reform..."

Doctor explains autopsy

A Romulus physician and deputy Wayne County Medical Examiner, spoke on the study of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy before the Belleville Rotary Club. He is Dr. E. Forrest Chapman.

Chapman, who lives in Belleville, recently had the opportunity to study the autopsy performed on the former president since the evidence was placed in the National Archives in Washington, D.C., in 1966.

He told the Rotarians that a study made of the x-rays and photographs of the assassination suggest that there was more than one gunman involved in the President's death.

The photographs were made available to specialists in October, 1971.

Vets to be counseled on benefits

A mobile van staffed by specialists in veterans benefits and counseling will be in Ypsilanti for a two-day stay in a tour of the state to provide one-stop, on-the-spot aid for former service men and women.

While in Ypsilanti, the van will be stationed on the east side of Washington Street just off Michigan Avenue. The van will be opened for business from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Thursday and Friday.

Area legislator gets key committee position

An area legislator has been appointed vice-chairman of a special state legislative committee to study mobile home parks. He is Rep. Gary M. Owen (D-Van Buren).

Chaired by House Majority Floor Leader Bobby D. Crim (D-Davison), the committee includes David E. Bonior (D-Mt. Clemens), Thomas G. Sharpe (R-Howell) and Loren S. Armbruster (R-Caro).

House Speaker William A. Ryan made the appointments.

ACCORDING TO Crim, the special committee conducted its first public hearing yesterday in Flint.

One of the topics which will be under committee consideration is a bill being prepared for introduction by Crim and Owen.

The proposed Mobile Home Park Relations and Practices Act would establish a State Mobile Home Park Tenants Relations Board, spell out obligations and duties of mobile home park landlords and owners, and prohibit unfair and deceptive acts and practices.

"Mobile home living today has become a relatively moderate cost choice for persons seeking housing in light of the rising cost of the home market in Michigan", Owen said. "There is a booming business in the construction and operation of mobile home parks."

"HOWEVER, MOBILE home parks suffer from poor state laws as well as lack of concern, and there have been complaints of park owners and landlords employing tactics which take advantage of tenants," he said.

"The committee will be a fact-finding panel. Its purpose is to carefully review and assess the situation, hear from mobile home park tenants and owners, then determine what should be done on the state level".

Owen said that further public hearings will be announced later, one of which is scheduled for the Ypsilanti-Belleville area.

CONSIDER THIS, FELLOW ROMULUS CITIZENS:

Promises are being made pertaining to Romulus and its citizens, but carrying out these plans take money.

Most taxpayers feel that they are paying all they can manage now and though they like improvements they cannot necessarily afford to pay for them.

The CARMICHAEL SLATE believes, that as an operating principal, City Government should utilize monies now available, take advantage of carefully screened Federal subsidies, and proceed with caution in regard to levying additional taxes for things that are nice to have but are expensive to pay for.

Recreation, roads, protective services, honest compensation for public employees, preservation of city tax base, adequate housing; issues the CARMICHAEL SLATE realize are all good.

In determining priorities, implementation of projects and means to be taken in attaining desired ends, however study must be made and judgment exercised.

As your representatives in Romulus City Government, the CARMICHAEL SLATE promises to give serious thought and study to each issue, exercise judgment, and represent with sincerity the people of this city.

You can help yourself as well as helping us by voting for the CARMICHAEL SLATE on November 6 in the general election.

Double ring vows read at Methodist Church

Two altar bouquets of white gladiolus formed the setting for the August 25 marriage of Marion Canup and Mark Minthorn which was solemnized at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville.

The Rev. J.E. Arthur presided at the five thirty nuptials which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Canup of Garden City and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Minthorn of 45091 Venetian, Belleville.

For the double ring rite, the bride selected a lace gown reminiscent of the ante-bellum era. The hooped bouffant skirt was fashioned of tiers of lace which cascaded into a cathedral train. The little fitted bodice was designed with a jewel neckline and long full sleeves fringed with seed pearls and sequins.

A pearl-trimmed lace headress secured the bride's fingertip veil which was outlined with lace and a bouquet of red and white roses completed her bridal finery.

PRECEDING THE bride and her father to the altar were her three attendants: Debbie Goodlet, a cousin from Detroit, who was maid of honor; and Lori Minthorn, the bridegroom's sister, and Mrs. Thelma Davis of Plymouth.

Identically gowned, they appeared in turquoise chiffon over taffeta. Patterned in the empire mode, the waistlines were accented with white lace and small turquoise flowers. Other styling details included scoop necklines, short puffed sleeves and formal-length skirts.

Large matching bows secured the brief veils which formed their headgear and turquoise carnations and white roses comprised their bouquets.

Also donning a turquoise ensemble for her role as flowergirl was eight-year old Jane Kause, cousin of the bridegroom and daughter of the James Kauses of Belleville.

The bride's nine-year old brother, James Canup, performed the duties of ringbearer.

ASSISTING THE bridegroom were Fred Thom of Belleville as best man and the trio of ushers: Joe Walls and Glen Reinhackel of Belleville and Marvin Canup Jr. of Garden City, brother of the bride.

For the happy occasion, the bride's mother wore a floorlength turquoise dress and corsage of white roses. For her son's wedding, Mrs. Minthorn selected an emerald green formal gown to which she added her corsage of white roses.

Some 250 guests gathered at the P.N.A. Lodge for the reception which followed. Currently residing at 5500 Williams, Apt. 26, Wayne, the newlyweds have postponed their honeymoon to Florida until later in the fall.

The new Mrs. Minthorn was graduated from Garden City West High School in 1972 and is now employed at Nightingale Convalescent Home in Westland. Mark, a 1969 alumnus of Belleville High, is an employee of Guardian Industries of Detroit.

For the B.H.S. Band-- applause, applause!

CAN'T THINK of a better way to lead off this column than to mention the fine performance the Belleville High School Marching Band gave Friday night at half-time during the BHS-Robichaud game.

Having been cut loose from their regular, supervised practices (due to the teacher strike) members decided to undertake their drills and rehearsals ON THEIR OWN. And, wow, what a job they did! Appropriately titled 'the greatest show on earth', their performance, ala Ringling Brothers, was just that! We understand that several former bandsters gave the group a hand plus much moral support as they took on the task of depicting the circus world with their spritely, colorful formations.

And -- just in case you had doubts about your vision -- yes, those WERE pink elephants you saw out there in the center ring.

Oh yes, the Tigers didn't do too badly for themselves either since they trounced their opponents 21-6!

Sandy Tontolo feted at miscellaneous event

SOME 40 GUESTS answered invitations to the shower given Sunday by Helen Tontolo of Wayne for her niece, Sandy Tontolo of Belleville. Arriving from Ann Arbor, Livonia, Garden City, Westland, Wayne, Ypsilanti, and Belleville, the group enjoyed hearing about the upcoming wedding while playing a variety of bridal-theme games.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Kathryn Tontolo and Pat Burger of Belleville, used the colors which will be worn by the bridal coterie - pink and burgundy - in decorating for the afternoon party. Betty McMullin of Ann Arbor provided the lovely floral arrangements which accented the rooms.

And, in keeping with the tiny pink net parasols which each guest wore on her lapel, the door prizes turned out to be pretty bubble-type umbrellas. Taking home the awards were Zephia Cawthon of Belleville, Linda Micallis of Garden City and Donna Burger of Westland.

The future maid of honor, Barbara Veerkamp, and Martelle Ammon helped Sandy with the ribbons and wrappings as she opened her assorted household gifts. A buffet dinner rounded out the day for the group of well-wishers.

St. Anthony's Church has been reserved for the October 20 ceremony which will make Sandy Mrs. Lance Ammon.

Hootens help 'Colonel' celebrate

THE T. G. HOOTENS and their son, Ted, of Belleville were invited to Louisville, Kentucky on the eighth to help celebrate the 83rd birthday of Colonel Sanders.

Festivities began at 10:30 a.m. with a cruise down the Ohio River on the Belle of Louisville. This was a KFC family affair and included a birthday cake and soft drinks on board. Each of the KFC dealers was invited to 'bring the family'.

Evening activities centered on a cocktail party and dinner-dance at the Ramada Inn where the Colonel continued to greet his many friends.

And though the actual date of the Colonel's birthday is September 9, it was moved up a day in order to include another natal date -- that of the Colonel's Lady, Claudia, who was born September 7.

Pre-nuptial party honors Lynda Box

LYNDA BOX and Terry Wilburn have set September 29 as the date for their wedding which will take place at St. Anthony's Church. Just recently, Lynda had the fun of opening scads of gifts for their future home when her cousin, Sally Kormos, and neighbor, Bea Raymond, co-hosted a shower in her honor.

Tagged 'miscellaneous', the pre-nuptial event was held Thursday, September 6, at the V.F.W. Hall in Romulus. Some 75 guests arrived from Ann Arbor, Taylor, Portage Lake, Detroit, Dearborn Heights, Milan, and neighboring cities for the evening party. Twenty-nine games of card bingo (to tie in with the wedding date) were played and door prizes awarded to Doris Nix, Maxine Miller, Gertrude Harris, and Madeleine Muse of Belleville and Ann Koitek of Detroit.

Decorative additions to the room included a Grecian waterfall, three-tiered wedding cake accented in powder blue (the work of Cheryl Kormos) and a gayly-festooned parasol. When Lynda sat down to unwrap her presents, she was assisted by her future bridal attendants: Joanne Herkimer, Vicki Palmer, Karen Kingsley, Rhonda Reed, and little Chris Ann Kormos, who'll be flowergirl. Among the special gifts Lynda received was a 'surprise package' from Sally Kormos containing an old glass plate and lace tablecloth which had belonged to the girls' grandmother, Mrs. Joseph Uchman.

The prospective bridegroom also put in an appearance in time to open "his" gift -- a clothes basket filled with all kinds of necessary 'around-the-house' type gadgets that every man needs (the thoughtful idea of his future mother-in-law, Stephanie Box.)

October bride-elect feted at pre-nuptial party

VIRGINIA TURNEY played hostess September 7 at a miscellaneous bridal shower honoring Kathy Bleeker who will be the October 12 bride of David Baldwin. Twenty-two guests spent the evening playing progressive bunco after which a salad smorgasbord was theirs for the choosing.

Kathy, who has chosen the First United Methodist Church for her wedding, then opened her assorted gifts with help from Vicki Ray, who's to be honor maid, and Ellen Baldwin and her little daughter, Kim, from Ypsilanti.

Enjoying the 'unveiling', which included a clever 'bride' fashioned of Tupperware bowls by Verdys Shephard, were Marge Ford, Lee Schweigert, Trudy Studer, Carol Santure, Bernadine Schaefer, and Debbie Hendricks.

Still others were the bride-elect's grandmother, Mrs. Ada Scott of Romulus; Lucille Perry from Saline; Marilyn, Lori and Jan Prill, Mrs. Jov Arthur and daughter, Spring, Pat Ray, Ruth Bleeker and Wendy Turney.

Hadyniaks announce betrothal

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Hadyniak of 11700 Ewing, Romulus, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Audrey Ann, to Greg Laskaska, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Laskaska of 37752 Westvale, Romulus.

A senior at Romulus High School, Miss Hadyniak is also employed at Kerr Manufacturing.

The prospective bridegroom was graduated from Romulus High School in 1972 and is now employed at Vesco's Market in Romulus.

As yet, no date has been set for the wedding.

HV Garden Club meets for September session

The September 10 meeting of the Huron Valley Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. Fred Flavell on S. Biggs Street. There were 24 in attendance.

Reports were given as follows: the horticulture report was given by Mrs. LaVern Sayre who discussed the over-abundance of crab grass this year; Mrs. Melvin Budd, conservation chairman, reported on protection for our endangered species; and Mrs. R. Lynne Hamilton discussed how garden clubs can play key roles to bring about better litter control for their communities. The strength of litter control lies in the citizens wanting it, supporting it and cooperating voluntarily to make it effective.

The book 'My World War II Diary' written by Mrs. Edith Phillips is being placed in the memorial book collection at the Fred C. Fischer Library. It is in tribute to the late Mr. B. P. Hopson.

Mrs. Jennie Gras reported that there were 24 arrangements placed in the Club's Mini-Flower Show held at Box Jewelry Store in August. Bill Ballard of Ballard Flowers was the judge. First place went to Mrs. Gladys Mast for her live arrangement and to Mrs. Charlotte Budd for her dried arrangement. Second place went to Mrs. Shirley Hennells and third to Mrs. Onnalee Wall.

The program was a most informative one on 'Birds in our Gardens and Other Lands' given by Bonnie Moon and Carol Fitch.

Debbie Horton marries in Ypsilanti church

Deborah Ann Horton carried a cascade bouquet of white sweetheart roses and mums as she walked up the aisle of Emmanuel Lutheran Church on her wedding day, September 8.

In a seven o'clock ceremony conducted by Pastor Kotchenruther, Debbie became the bride of Keith Duane Schoeff. Their double ring vows were witnessed by some 375 assembled relatives and friends.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Horton of 6165 Denton Road, Belleville, the bride was gown in a toe-touching creation of white chiffon fashioned with a high neckline, full sleeves and a satin cummerbund at the natural waistline. The dress was distinguished by a front panel of tucked satin frosted with Chantilly lace. The sleeves were made to match.

The same lace was used to outline the bride's veil of silk illusion which was cut in shoulder length.

JAN HORTON, as her sister's honor attendant, donned a floor-length dress of sky blue dotted swiss with hat and shoes to match. Her bouquet was comprised of bachelor buttons, yellow daisies, lime green star flowers and baby's breath.

The three bridesmaids were Mari Horton, sister of the bride; Sharon Smith; and a cousin, Mrs. James Daugherty, all of Belleville. Their dresses in lime green were similar to that worn by the maid of honor.

Little Marni Sietz, daughter of the Wayne Sietzs of Belleville, carried out the role of flowergirl wearing a miniature version of the senior attendants' frocks.

Seven-year old Lawrence Urbaniak, son of the Lawrence Urbaniaks, served as ringbearer.

THE BRIDEGROOM, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert L. Schoeff of 9270 Judd Road, Willis, asked Duane Noworyta of Ypsilanti to be best man. The corps of ushers included Darwin Schoeff of Ann Arbor and Gary Schoeff of Saline, both brothers of the bridegroom; Rick Murphy of Ypsilanti; and Jim Horton of Belleville, brother of the bride.

The Trades Union Hall, Ypsilanti, was reserved for the reception which followed. Guests were greeted by Mrs. Horton in a formal-length turquoise gown to which she pinned her corsage of yellow roses. The bridegroom's mother chose to wear a dark pink evening gown and corsage of pale pink roses.

Before making their home at Green Meadows Apartments, the newlyweds honeymooned for a week in Florida.

Debbie graduated from Belleville High School, attended Eastern Michigan University for a year and is now employed at Buhr Machines, Ann Arbor.

Her husband was graduated from Lincoln High School and is currently employed at Michigan Trenching Service, Ypsilanti.

Newlyweds head for Niagara Falls on honeymoon

Double ring vows were exchanged September 8 between Catherine Redden and Larry Darrell Jones, both of Belleville. Grace Baptist Church was the setting for their six thirty ceremony read by the Rev. William Gram.

Parents of the young couple are Mr. and Mrs. Estel M. Redden of Haggerty Road and Mr. and Mrs. John D. Jones of Alden Drive.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a scoop-necked gown of satin with a lace overlay. The formal-length dress also featured long sleeves and an empire waistline.

A crown of lace and seed pearls secured the bride's waist-length veil of silk illusion and a bouquet of cascading white carnations and red rosebuds completed her ensemble.

MAID OF HONOR was Barbara J. Veerkamp of Belleville, the bride's best friend. Her lavender gown was made with long sleeves and a floor-length skirt. Her accessories included a matching picture hat and basket.

Terrarium lesson opens Home Arts Club season

The Home of Arts Club opened its 1973-74 year Monday, September 10, at North Junior High School. The new president, Elaine Gutierrez, welcomed the group and presented her fellow-officers: Sharon Matthews, vice-president; Sally Jones, corresponding secretary; Beverly Eichold, recording secretary; Elaine Habel, treasurer; and Kathy Miller, program chairman.

Twenty-five members answered roll call with four guests being introduced: Phyllis Breithaupt, Nancy Kiesel, Aldine Potter and Linda Glaspie.

Club policy was discussed after which the meeting was turned over to Kathy Miller who explained plans for the annual October dinner meeting. In lieu of the usual smorgasbord, members are to take part in an old-fashioned 'box social' with each bringing a complete dinner for one at 6:30 p.m. on October 8. The container (be it box, basket or sack) is to be decorated for the occasion. Dessert and beverages will be provided by the program committee which also includes Sharon Richdollar, Jean Ferguson and Florence McKelvey.

Members are also urged to dress in old-fashioned attire and are asked to bring along any interesting antiques they might care to exhibit.

Any guests attending that evening are to bring a box dinner as well.

THE PROGRAM for the evening followed with Mrs.

Olin Wyman as guest speaker. Her theme was the 'Making of Terrariums' and, with assistance from Eunice Kause, she explained the necessary steps in creating a glassed-in garden.

A hobby with Mrs. Wyman, terrariums, she explained, stem from the early Egyptians and were 're-discovered' in the 1820's when a team of explorers learned (by accident) that plants survived, grew and thrived when shipped in closed containers.

In building a terrarium, Mrs. Wyman stressed that all items must be sterile to avoid contamination from insects and pests. She also suggested a helpful reference book, 'Gardens in Glass Containers' which can be obtained at the local library.

Several examples of Mrs. Wyman's and Mrs. Kause's creativity were brought for display and shown in giant-sized brandy snifters, aquarium tanks, and various shaped glass containers. Also shown was a 'sai-kei' Japanese dish garden which differs from a terrarium in that it is uncovered.

After the guest speaker had been presented with a certificate of appreciation the group sat down to refreshments served by Audrey Tabor and her committee: Lucille Bravatto, Mildred Baker, Sharon Richdollar and Betty Gott.

Trustees approve multiple zoning

The Van Buren Township Board of Trustees has approved the rezoning of a 14-acre plus land parcel located on Denton Road between Beckley and New Denton Road, from single-family to multiple zoning.

Both the township planning commission and the Wayne County Planning Commission had recommended a change in the land site's present single-family residential zoning to multiple zoning.

A rezoning request involving 25.53 acres located on Michigan Avenue between Dellow Street and a drive-in theater at the county line on the north side of the street was referred back to the township planning commission for reconsideration to see if something could be worked out from the traffic standpoint that would make the rezoning advantageous to the area.

The rezoning petition seeks a zoning change from single-family to trailer park-mobile classification.

The Wayne County and Van Buren Planning Commissions have recommended denial of the rezoning petition.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

It is predicted the world's population of 3.5 billion people will double in 30 years. Our 200 million plus population is expected to exceed 300 million by that time. If these predictions hold true, as they probably will, we and the world will face a serious environment dilemma. Land, food, air, water, waste - will pose dreadful problems.

New communities will have to emerge somehow, somewhere. Food production and distribution puzzles will have to be solved. Air pollution must stop or mankind will choke to death. New ways will have to be found to supply drinking water. Likewise, new ways for disposal of material and human waste must be found. Deterioration of our environment must stop. Thus far, after all is said and done there has been more said than done. We are mistaken when we think with no or little effort, some Great Power will right everything we have made wrong with God's precious and sacred earth...

SHADES ADD DECK COMFORT — Roll-down shades of canvas attached to fir beams combine with solid railing to screen deck when wind or sun is bothersome, yet retain open feeling the rest of the time. Bench of Douglas fir attaches to posts.

Enhance living

Shades add comfort to deck

Enjoyment and usefulness of an outdoor living area can be enhanced easily by adding screens for privacy or for blocking out bothersome wind and sun.

But because weather is so variable, there are times when a cooling breeze or the warmth of the sun is desirable, so what's really best is screening that's adjustable as seasons change.

One family added greatly to the comfort and utility of their raised deck along the back of the house by installing roll-down canvas shades above a waist-high solid railing.

RAILING POSTS topped with beams extend three feet above the railing. The canvas shades, in 10-foot-long sections, are suspended from the beams and are tied to the underside of the two by six-inch flat cap of the railing when rolled down.

Half of the deck is roofed with translucent plastic panels over a grid framework of two by four-inch fir. This covering and the shades combine to make the deck popular with the children as a sleeping porch in the summer.

Built onto the four by six and two by six-inch fir posts of the railing is a bench, with two by four-inch fir for the seat, two spaced one by four for backrests, and 2x6s for legs.

The bench seat is painted a glossy black, matching a picnic table and benches built of two by four-inch fir and used for patio dining. The benches and table contrast with the railing and deck, painted gray.

Winterize mower before storage

Take a few steps to winterize your lawn mower, garden tiller and other small engine machines before putting them into storage.

First drain the fuel tank. Be sure to do this in a well-ventilated area. Avoid smoking and other fire hazards.

Depending on the type of engine, drain fuel by either disconnecting the hose from the fuel tank or opening the drain plug on the carburetor. Drain the fuel into a metal gas can and move the machine into another area.

Clear fuel from the carburetor and fuel line by starting the engine. When the engine begins to sputter, operate the choke.

If you have adequate tools and are familiar with the engine, remove the carburetor bowl, wipe it thoroughly with a clean cloth and replace it. This prevents gum deposits and residues from evaporating gas that could clog parts.

Remove the spark plug and insert one teaspoon of SAE10W lubricating oil into the cylinder. Hand rotate the engine several times to distribute the oil. Stop the piston at the top or outermost point of its stroke.

This covers the inside volume of the cylinder with the piston, allowing no space for moisture to collect and cause rust.

Clean and check the spark plug gap before replacing the spark plug. Information regarding the size of gap should be on the nameplate of the motor. Also check the nameplate for the type of oil required. If the engine is a four-cycle, drain and replace the oil.

Area residents remodel because of interest rate

The mortgage situation in most areas of the country is virtually impossible. So many area homeowners are deciding to stay put and remodel.

The wise ones schedule remodeling projects in order of importance—a kind of five-year plan. It could be two years or 10 but, whichever, analyze your needs carefully and assign priorities.

Most important are the items that have a bearing on the safety of your family, or protection of the house. If the roof leaks, it should be repaired right now. The same is true if exterior wood is starting to rot, or if wiring is dangerously outmoded, or a septic tank is not functioning properly.

Improve your

Next, consider your home in terms of space. Are there enough bedrooms? Adequate bathroom facilities? Sufficient storage area? Then analyze the situation in relation to comfort, convenience, ease of maintenance—the items that affect everyday living: an up-to-date kitchen, insulation, weatherstripping, self-storing storm-screen windows, washable wall and floor coverings.

You can do much of this work yourself. According to the Better Floors Council, even the rank amateur handyman can lay an adhesive-back vinyl asbestos tile floor. Regular vinyl asbestos tile can also be installed on walls, providing an easy-to-clean covering that withstands scrapes, gouges and fingermarks much better than any paint or wallpaper.

Finally, plan the luxuries—facilities for the enjoyment of leisure-time activities. Obviously, these add considerably to the value and enjoyment of your property, but they should come after the more basic necessities.

Drain system

In preparing a car for cold weather, the all-important cooling system should be drained, flushed and refilled if the coolant is two-years-old, according to auto experts.

A 45-to-50 per cent solution of water and permanent-type anti-freeze is recommended.

Huron adult ed program may face state funds cut

By HENRY CANTIN
Huron School District's adult education program will face a cut in state funds unless enrollment for the free classes increases in the next four weeks, said Roger Benner, community education director.

"People think that adult education is just history and mathematics," Benner added. "We've hired about 100 teachers and have classes in everything imaginable."

With enrollment rising from 500 to more than 1,000 students in the last three school years, Benner said he anticipated an enrollment of approximately 2,000 this year. But with the registration period for classes ending Sept. 28, the program's present enrollment is only 500, he said.

HURON'S ADULT education program, which is financed by a state reimbursement, has offered the adult classes at no charge for the last three years. The classes are open to anyone who presently is not attending high school.

Having no residency requirement, the program in the past has drawn students from all parts of southwestern Wayne County and the downriver area, Benner added.

He said that the district will be receiving $50,000 quarterly for the program but this amount will decrease if class numbers are small when a student count is taken.

During the last three years, 292 students have received high school diplomas. Benner said the program has many "classes that aren't necessarily for high school completion."

MANY ADULTS aren't aware that vocational classes such as carpentry, masonry, plumbing, auto collision work and health occupations are being offered, he said.

"When the program started three years ago, we had a goal that we could teach a man to build his own home," Benner added. "This is the only adult education program of its kind in the area."

Classes are held at Huron High School between 7 and 10 p.m. Though the classes already have started, those who wish to register can do so until Sept. 28 by calling the community school office, at 782-2441 during business hours and at 782-1436 during evening hours.

Benner said veterans who take full-time classes in the program are entitled to veteran's benefits. He added that the program has access to several scholarships for graduates students wishing to go to college.

At airport in Romulus

Delta Air Lines traffic continues to grow

Delta Air Lines passenger and cargo traffic continued to show strong growth during August at the Detroit Metropolitan Airport in Romulus as compared to 1972 results.

A 16 per cent increase in local passenger enplanements is attributed by Arthur Moreau Delta's district director marketing to: "several factors including Delta's schedules which feature a full range of flights from early bird - standard first and coach class configuration to owl bird departures."

"In conjunction with this wide selection of accommodations which offer a variety of fare levels, we also participate in several promotional fare tariffs which make low cost transportation available to the traveler," Moreau said.

He pointed out that Delta offers roundtrip mid-week excursion fares in Florida markets as low as $106 per person between Detroit and Miami. Three and four day weekend excursion fares are available at slightly higher prices, as are group rates which can be used in conjunction with a multitude of package tour arrangements, including several Caribbean cruise programs.

While commenting on package tours, which Moreau feels constitute about 30 per cent of Delta's local passenger bookings, he announced that Delta plans to make these cost vacation arrangements available to all sectors of the traveling public.

He indicated that Delta's fall and winter Dream Vacation program will feature a variety of fall foliage and winter Ski Vacations to top New England and Canadian resorts in addition to the usual assortment of packages to the resort areas in the South.

Moreau said that Delta's cargo traffic increased in excess of 21 per cent during August when compared to one year ago. He pointed to "a greater public awareness of the convenience and benefits of air freight and promotional programs such as Delta Air Lines Special Handling DASH shipments," as the source of the results.

Officers receive slight injuries

Two Sumpter Township police officers received slight injuries when their patrol car was struck by another vehicle on Sumpter Road near Kozma Road at 11:15 p.m. Saturday night.

Injured were Ptl. Howard Galloway (driver), and Ptl. Al Hill. Their new scout car, which recently was put into service, was badly damaged as was the other car driven by Ricky Smith, 18, a resident of the Fenster Subdivision in Sumpter Township, police said.

Sgt. Charles Cox said that police car was southbound on Sumpter Road responding to a call of "man-with-a-gun" complaint. The patrol car's siren and flasher lights were operating.

Smith who was not injured told officers that he did not hear the police car siren.

Rotary Club hears facts on no-fault

Members of the Belleville Rotary Club were updated on Michigan's no-fault auto insurance provisions at a recent dinner-meeting.

Darryl Raymond Jr., a local insurance representative and Rotarian told club members of the various policies and provisions of no-fault insurance which become the insurance law of the state on Oct. 1.

"If you own a car, truck, bus or trailer, you must have this insurance," he said. "If you don't, you could be fined $500 jailed for a year and lose your driver's license and license plates."

"Two-wheeled motor cycles are not included in no-fault policies and to get Michigan license plates you must prove that you have this insurance," he added.

Cub Pack 754 to conduct member drive

Cub Scout Pack 754, sponsored by the Quirk Road Elementary School in Belleville, is conducting a membership drive through September and October.

The pack also is seeking den mothers to serve and supervise members of the pack which meets monthly at the school.

The pack's next scheduled meeting will be Sept. 25. Plans for upcoming programs will be discussed at the meeting.

On a 'color tour' in Michigan

Fall charms lure thousands

When summer slips into September, Michigan gives birth to the phenomenal season of autumn. A season dominated by "simple pleasures" that help to bridge generation gaps, rebut the high cost of living and revive such old fashioned customs as pumpkin jack-o-lanterns, hayrides and cider and donuts.

From mid-September to early November, Michigan's 19 million acres of forest land are in production of their annual "late show" starring 85 major species of trees.

The leaves, like butterflies, shed their cocoons of green revealing brilliant new forms. Reds of oak and maple, yellows of birch and sycamore...gold of aspen and bronze of beech mingle with green spruce and pine in a rainbow border along the highways and byways.

THE WHOLE spectacular seems to generate a magnetic force attracting native and visitor, young and old alike. In Michigan, we call it color touring.

While color tours are the impetus, autumn in Michigan offers delightful fringe benefits. It's one of the greatest times of the year to pack a picnic lunch or the ingredients for a weiner roast and let hunger tell you when it's time to eat.

You can pick your lunch room from one of over 100 state parks and forests, 100 roadside parks, 65 freeway rest areas, 500 picnic table sites or the bank of an inland river or stream -- we have 36,000 miles of those. Take time to take a walk in the woods and kick some leaves, gather some acorns or pine cones or nuts. You might even be lucky enough to discover some Shaggy Manes or Puff Balls, mushroom delicacies of the season.

Then there's the "flavor" of fall, freshly pressed apple cider, tart sweet and icy cold and spicy donuts so fresh they're still warm.

COLOR TOURISTS can find this tasty repast at more than 90 cider mills throughout Michigan. What's more, you can watch the whole cider-making process.

The cider mills vary in size, style and age. There are centuries like the Franklin Mill in Franklin, a national historical site, just northwest of Detroit. The building is about 140 years old and was originally a grist mill. The huge water wheel still turns.

The 100-year-old Parmenter Cider Mill at Northville has an old fashioned store for browsing and home-made peanut butter for an extra treat.

At the Centennial Farm Market at Dewitt (just north of Lansing on US-27), visitors can purchase fresh fruits and vegetables as well as bread, pies, cookies and donuts baked on the spot. Dried apple dolls are among the interesting items nestled in the gift shop.

A VISIT TO Uncle John's Cider Mill at St. Johns takes you back to the days of pitcher pump sinks, pot bellied stoves and player pianos. Try a cider shake, a specialty of the house.

There are farm mills, like the Country Mill, just west of Pottsville on Vermontville Highway off US-27. Before, or after, your cider and donuts, you might like to pick a peek of vegetables and herbs from the garden. Or, select a pumpkin from the patch behind the mill.

Whatever you choose to explore on your Michigan color tour, you can be sure it will have that authentic Michigan flavor.

A TWAIN ADVENTURE — Reader's Digest presents a musical adaptation of Mark Twain's "Tom Sawyer," which will open today at the State Wayne Theatre on Michigan Avenue in Wayne through release by United Artists. Shown above are Jeff East as Huck Finn, Johnny Whitaker in the title role, Celeste Holm as Aunt Polly and Jodie Foster as Becky Thatcher.

Entertainment

Latin festival concludes series

Detroit's popular summer Ethnic Festival series comes to an end this weekend with the Latin American Festival at the Cobo Hall riverfront site.

Detroit's Latin American community represents 12 nations — Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Cuba, Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Peru and Puerto Rico. Detroiters with roots in these countries have combined their creative energy to produce a Festival around the theme of unity.

Entertainment will be offered Friday evening and again Saturday and Sunday afternoons and evenings. Music from all the participating countries will be played for dancing.

And the rhythmic beat of maracas and castanets will be heard in the background as native dances from Colombia, Argentina, Puerto Rico, Mexico, Chile, Nicaragua, Cuba and Panama are performed by professional dance troupes.

Booths selling food will offer Latin American specialties such as pastelillos (meat turnovers), pasteles (meat pies), mata hambre (beef, lettuce and tomato sandwich), empanadas (meat turnovers), arroz con pollo (rice and chicken), chicheme (beverage made from milk, corn meal, sugar and cinnamon) and piqueo criollo (combination plate).

Festival visitors will be able to examine and purchase unique imports from the Latin American countries.

The hours for the Festival are 6 p.m. to 11 p.m. Friday and noon to 11 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Admission is free.

At Belleville High

Diving shows

Demonstrations in scuba, skin and snorkel diving will be presented at the Belleville High School pool at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

The demonstrations and display of diving equipment will be held under the sponsorship of the Belleville Skin, Scuba and Snorkel Diving Club.

A club instructor certified by national authorities in scuba, skin and snorkel diving operations will supervise the program.

Acclaimed boys' circus to perform at Olympia

All of the thrills and excitement identified with the word "circus" will be included in the program offered by "Los Muchachos," the world-famous International Boys Circus from Spain, opening at Olympia on Sept. 28 for an engagement that runs through Sept. 30.

Acclaimed throughout Europe for their talent and daring, the Detroit stop for Los Muchachos is part of their first North American tour.

Some of the highlights of the show, designed to evoke gasps from audiences of all ages, include high flyers, "The Icarian Devils," and a specialty act entitled "High Hat on the High Trapeze." Classic "big top" acts also are plentiful. Balancing on sword point and lofty poles, feats of juggling and magic, cycle acrobatics and human pyramids are just some of them.

Special numbers that proved to be show stoppers abroad will be an act by the "Mini-Mini Clowns," a demonstration of equestrian skill that has made Spain a leader in this handsome sport, and a comic bullfight spectacle that is unparalleled anywhere.

Another surprise, in addition to their own circus orchestra, is the Gallego Bagpipe Marching Band. This group of young musicians displays a definite ability to perform on this difficult instrument.

Los Muchachos will perform seven times during their stay at Olympia. On Friday, Sept. 28, there are two shows at 5 and 8 p.m. Three are scheduled for Saturday at 10:30 a.m., 2:30 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. The circus will close on Sunday with two performances at 2 and 6 p.m.

Centennial celebration awaits century-old town

A three-day centennial celebration is slated Friday through Sunday at 100-year old Maybee, Mich.

Beginning at 4 p.m. Friday there will be rides, game booths, contests, food stands, evening shows and merchant exhibits in the grove at Frederick and Joseph Streets. Dance shows each evening on St. Joseph Catholic Church's blacktop area will feature the Clawson School of Dance on Friday at 7 p.m., and Peg Harris Dance Studio at 7 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

OPEN STREET dances—one with a teenage musical group and one with a square dance group—will be Friday and Saturday nights. Beginning at noon Saturday there will be a pony pull in back of St. Joseph's. St. Paul Lutheran Church will provide a meal of turkey and dressing in a setting of Maybee ethnic backgrounds. The countries of Germany, England, France and Poland have descendants living in Maybee, and these native countries will be represented through the decorations. The full dinner will be served on Saturday from 5 to 7:30 p.m. for $3 (adults) and $1.75 (children under 12).

Sunday noon's dinner will be reminiscent of the old-fashioned box socials. Visitors may choose to eat inside St. Joseph's Madonna Hall or to carry their boxed chicken outside to await the parade. The $2 boxes will be served from 11:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

THE BIG event Sunday afternoon will be the parade. Forming at St. Joseph, the first unit will begin southward on Joseph Street at 2:00 p.m. Floats, bands, antique cars, horses, ponies and decorated bicycles will participate. Also marching in the parade will be D Company of the 4th Michigan Volunteer Infantry, which will present a mock Civil War battle at noon and at 4 p.m. Sunday at the Maybee ball diamond on Raisin Street. A small donation to defray ammunition costs will be collected for this display, which is complete with Civil War outfits, muskets, and cannon.

The Maybee Area Museum on Raisin Street will be open throughout the three days, and there will also be an old caboose, reminiscent of the beginnings of Maybee, to visitors.

Kensington Metropark near Milford will be the site for a course entitled "The Michigan Naturalist" offered by the University Center for Adult Education starting Saturday, Sept. 29.

The natural history of public lands close to Detroit is the theme of this course, with the study centered around communities of plants and animals in relation to common and peculiar geological formations as well as other environmental factors. Dr. Sylvia Taylor, who has taught at Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti, and Miss Patricia Eising, supervising naturalist at Kensington Metropark, will be the course instructors.

The students will meet over a seven-week period.

For details and registration contact the University Center for Adult Education at 577-4665 (Detroit) or 763-4321 (Ann Arbor).

Open auditions for nine animal roles and 11 human roles are open to all interested persons in the community. Director James Lightfoot said.

The Belleville Community Players' first production in a series of planned children's plays will be "The Great Cross-Country Race," based on the famous fable of the tortoise and the hare.

The production has the sponsorship of the Van Buren Township Recreation Department. The adapted version of the famous fable that will be presented is by Alan Broadhurst and is published by Anchorage Press.

In addition to auditions for the various roles, there are several positions opened for back stage crews.

Area woman creates art from carved soap

BY CAROL THOMAS
Enterprise-Roman
Staff Writer

'I used to draw pictures for the children.'

A Belleville woman has been called the Grandma Moses of the soap painting world, but she actually doesn't have much competition in the market.

Mrs. Eileen Koenig's carvings and drawings in soap resemble real animals and pictures of people so closely, it's difficult to tell if they're made of humble laundry soap or Plaster of Paris.

Mrs. Koenig is active in the Huron Township Senior Citizens Club, and uses her artistic talents to liven up the group's activities.

HER MOST RECENT project was a "birthday board" with each member's picture set into a note of the "Happy Birthday" song.

She often does portraits of members in soap or draws likenesses of her pets. She sticks so closely to reality that she spent weeks following her cat around waiting for him to drop whiskers so she could inset them in her carving of him.

Mrs. Koenig's life has been devoted to art, even though she spent most of her working years as an elementary grade teacher in the Detroit school system. Audio-visual aids were unheard of then, and her chalk drawings to illustrate literature lessons for her elementary classes had to be hurriedly erased when her teaching supervisor came around.

But an occasional shadow of a picture got her into trouble more than once, she recalls.

"I USED TO draw pictures for the children if they were good," she laughed. "But I had to be sly about it."

"Now audio-visual teaching methods are the rule, but then we were reprimanded for teaching any way but the way we were taught to teach — which was to stand at the front of the room and lecture and make the students recite," she added.

Now that Mrs. Koenig has retired, most of her days are devoted to the art that she has loved most of all through the years.

She does portraits of her friends in soap, and does some paintings to exhibit in local art shows.

HER SOAP PAINTING is done in a mixture of Ivory soap flakes and water, which is spread on a hard surface and allowed to dry. Usually the soap is put on a piece of wood that is already framed.

She uses her carving tools, then sets ink and paint into the carved areas to make a three-dimensional painting. Then the whole project is coated with a plastic sealer to prevent drying and cracking.

The senior citizens from Waltz meet in the Waltz fire hall on Tuesdays and the Flat Rock seniors meet in the Youth Center on Wednesdays.

EXTRA-PERSONAL BIRTHDAY SONG—Mrs. Eileen Koenig of Belleville, liven up Waltz and Flat Rock senior citizens meetings with her artistic talents which include painting, soap carving and other art forms. Here, she displays a birthday board she made for the group that features the members' pictures set into notes of the birthday song. — Enterprise Roman photo.

Faust encourages use of bus route

The use of bus transportation in the Detroit area was encouraged last week by an area legislator upon the opening of a new bus route in Western Wayne County.

Sen. William Faust (D-Westland) said he hopes residents of the area serviced by the new Metropolitan Transit route running from Inkster Road and Michigan Avenue to Middlebelt and Seven Mile, will "take advantage of the service to demonstrate the need for more complete public transportation facilities."

"While public transportation has long been a critical need in the Western Wayne County area," Faust said, "we must remember that any public transportation system will continue only if a sufficient number of people use it."

"With rising gasoline prices and the alleged shortage of gas supplies, it is my hope that residents...will take advantage of the new service," he continued. The new bus route includes the 13th senatorial district, which Faust represents.

"I am certain that legislators will scrutinize public acceptance and use of bus service such as this before considering expansion of public transportation in the Detroit metropolitan area," Faust said.

For Edison picnic area

Township trustees OK lease

A resolution approving a lease between the Detroit Edison Company and Van Buren Township administration regarding the picnic area in Edison Pointe Park has been adopted by the Van Buren Township Trustees.

Belleville Lake and the 101-acre recreational park located on its north shore will eventually be owned by the township under provisions of a transfer ownership agreement currently being developed between Edison, owners of the park and lake and township officials.

Traffic safety light to be installed

The installation of a traffic light at the intersection of Denton Road and Michigan Avenue in Van Buren Township has received the approval of the Michigan State Highway Department. The new traffic control light (stop-and-go) will replace the present blinker light in operation at the intersection and is expected to be placed in operation by the end of October.

Both the administrative staff and the police department of the township and officials of the Van Buren Public School District have been working for several months to solve traffic problems at the intersection by persuading the state highway department to install the "urgently needed" traffic control signal at the site.

Belleville seniors need meeting place

The Belleville Senior Citizens Club, containing members from Belleville and Van Buren Township, is in need of a meeting place to conduct daytime programs and activities.

The club presently meets on Thursday evenings at the Edgemont Elementary School, 124 Edgemont St., Belleville, but cannot meet in the daytime for lack of facilities.

Mrs. Mary Bell of Belleville Monday said she is initiating a campaign to secure a regular meeting place for the community's senior citizens. She requests that persons interested in assisting her call her at 697-0089.

documents and transfer arrangements.

THE PICNIC AREA lease will give the township immediate possession of the picnic area and its facilities now, instead of later in 1974.

The township board also approved a bid proposal for the construction of a 695-foot, four-foot-high fence at the park. The bid, lowest of three received by the township, was submitted by the Washtenaw Fence Company.

In other matters considered at last week's meeting of the board, the trustees authorized a re-advertising for bid proposals on the purchase of a water department van. A bid submitted by Atchinson Ford Sales of Belleville was not a firm bid, according to a board spokesman, also, the board: —Waived the building fee for the Bethany Baptist Church, 810 E. Huron River Dr. The church is building an addition to facilities in the form of classrooms and a fellowship hall.

—AUTHORIZED THE sending of a reimbursement for cost incurred by the township when an employee of the Wayne 24-hour Answering Service pushed the wrong button "accidentally" on Aug. 11 and 12 causing the township's fire equipment to answer false fire runs.

—Granted approval on the purchase of a trailer on Lot 105 Edison Pointe Park for $350. The 28-foot by 8-foot trailer is to be used as an office at the gravel pit owned by the township in the winter and in the park during the summer months.

Funds for the trailer's purchase will be taken from the township's recreation fund.

said the traffic congestion at the site is "bad and getting worse."

He said the problem is worse around 3:15 p.m. and 4:30 p.m. when school buses turn from Denton Road onto Michigan Avenue and merge with heavy traffic from automotive plants near Willow Run Airport. General Motors Corp. has four plants in the Willow Run area.

"About 1,500 workers leave the GM Truck and Coach plant between 3:15 and 4:40 p.m. and about a third of them go past the Denton-Michigan intersection," GM spokesmen said.

School district in Huron has policy of free meals

Huron School District children whose families have incomes at or below the state's school family income eligibility scale are eligible for free school lunches.

The school district, in announcing the free meal policy, urged those families to apply, along with others which may not meet the above criteria but have unusual expenses due to high medical bills, shelter costs in excess of 30 per cent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child and disaster or casualty losses.

Families may apply by completing the application form sent home from school with their children. Application forms are also available at each school's main office.

THE INFORMATION provided on the application will be confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted any time during the school year.

In certain cases, foster children are also eligible for the benefits. If a family has foster children living with it and wishes to apply for the meal program, it should contact the school.

In operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of his race, sex, color or national origin.

If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official he may make a request either orally or in writing to Lee Goodney, assistant superintendent of schools, 24820 Merriman Rd., New Boston, 48164 for a hearing to appeal the decision.

THE FAMILY income eligibility scale ranges from a family size of one to 12 and an income of $2,740 to $10,880.

For each additional family member there is an additional income of $640 permitted in computing the family income.

Nature centers open for students

Teachers in schools located in Wayne, Macomb, Oakland, Livingston and Washtenaw counties have an opportunity to stimulate their students' interest in studies which relate to the environment by arranging a scheduled class visit to one of three nature centers of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, (HCMA).

The HCMA nature centers include Stony Creek Metropark near Utica, Kensington Metropark near Milford and Lower Huron Metropark near Belleville, with information and appointments available by phoning 961-5865.

A nature center appointment gives the class and teacher exclusive use of the exhibit room for a 45-minute session, including a short talk by a park naturalist who uses the exhibits and other natural objects to explain some of the interesting ecological relationships of the area.

WHEN APPOINTMENTS are scheduled, teachers may suggest a lecture topic which is suited to the current classroom studies.

At Lower Huron Metropark the Nature Center appointments start at 10 a.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, available in the fall only.

A swim pool for Romulus?

By TOM MOORADIAN

Joan Haubrick, who has lived in Romulus for over a decade, just can't visualize a community without a municipal swimming pool.

"That's because she grew up in California and loves to swim," because swimming is good physically and for recreation."

The mother of three children, Mrs. Haubrick is trying to drum up support for a municipal pool in Romulus and a few supporters, including various clubs such as the Kiwanis, Rotary and Jaycees have fallen into step.

Also listening is the Romulus board of education. And one of the reasons the board is listening is because the high school lacks a swimming facility.

"We have already collected 140 signatures to put the question of a municipal pool on the ballot," says Mrs. Haubrick, "we need 1,000.

"And one of the reasons for the urgency of this project is because as we all know that as the years go by the cost to construct such a facility may double," she said.

MRS. HAUBRICK added that she got involved in the project "because she doesn't like to see the kids of the community deprived and shortchanged.

"The recent heat wave was a good example of short-changing our children who had nowhere to go to swim in their city.

"I feel we owe them that much and ourselves to carry out this project," she said.

MRS. HAUBRICK has discovered that not everyone is willing to listen to the community's needs. "Because of ignorance about the project, some people have a misconception of what we are trying to do.

"And there also appears to be a feud between the board of education and the Romulus recreation department.

"We first went to the recreation department but didn't get any cooperation, so we called a meeting and the service groups showed up and we mapped out our plans. Everyone thought it was an excellent idea.

"The board of education appears enthusiastic because the high school doesn't have a pool. So, we do have many people interested.

"But since the people of the community are going to have to eventually decide the fate of such a project because they will have to pay for it, we will need all the help in the world to swing it across.

The recreation department feels Mrs. Haubrick added, this is a board project.

"But whoever heard of a recreation program without a pool? The recreation department and board of education should come up with a compromise whereby the recreation department can utilize the pool for such programs as adult swimming, age group swimming like they have over there in Garden City and scores of other projects and the high school just has hundreds of reasons why it needs a pool," she said.

Mrs. Haubrick, whose husband is employed at Ford Motor Company, pointed out that because of the inflationary nature of our economy, a swimming pool constructed a couple of years from now would almost be double the cost of one built now.

"The price tag of almost everything nowadays is going up, and I feel we should get the pool before its out of the reach of this community," she said.

One thing for sure Mrs. Haubrick knows her economics.

But then, what woman doesn't?

Tigers host Bentley in '8' opener

Belleville crushes Robichaud

By DALE GOWING

Dearborn Heights Robichaud's inexperience paved the way for Belleville Friday night, as the young Bulldogs succumbed to the veteran Tigers, 21-6, in a non-league football opener for both at Belleville.

Two costly fumbles and the inability to stop halfback Hubert Russell shackled Robichaud, while Belleville coach Keith Emerson's Tigers tuned up for their Suburban Eight Conference title drive which begins Friday at home against Livonia Bentley.

"Our inexperience really showed," analyzed Robichaud coach Bob Yauck. "We made a lot of mental mistakes which hurt us and we didn't execute well.

"I thought our defense played pretty well considering, but our offense never had field position.

"Of course the fumbles hurt too," he admitted.

The first, and most damaging, fumble came on Robichaud's first series of plays, after the Bulldogs had taken the opening kick-off and moved 22 yards to the Tiger 48 with the help of a Belleville personal foul penalty.

The hosts called on Russell, who carried the ball 22 yards and on the Tigers' first 13 running plays, putting the ball on the 10. Quarterback Gary Van Buhler then rolled to his right and passed to Bill Kinsella in the corner of the end zone.

Joe Stillwagon's extra point try was short.

Robichaud, which entered Belleville territory only twice, moved from its own 33 to the enemy's 33 on the strength of a 35-yard pass from Anthony Simmons to Wesley Jones, but Belleville immediately pounced on a Simmons fumble to stall the drive.

Belleville threatened twice more in the half but could not score.

Belleville exploded in the third quarter, however, marching 57 yards in 11 plays with Van Buhler scampering around left end from the one yard line for six points. Van Buhler's two-point PAT try failed as the Tigers led, 12-0.

Russell, Bruce Ford and Van Buhler alternated rushing duties on the drive.

Robichaud finally assembled a 55-yard scoring drive at the close of the third period, as Simmons passed to Johnny Allen and Jones to move to the Belleville 24.

After Oscar Dotson carried to the 20, Simmons rifled an aerial to Jones at the 10 who easily danced into the end zone. The PAT pass attempt failed.

A 26-yard pass from Belleville's Van Buhler to Otty Turrentine then put the ball on the Robichaud 24 and Ford rambled to the nine. After Van Buhler kept to the seven and Russell lost a yard, Van Buhler threw incomplete on fourth down, giving the ball to the Bulldogs.

Robichaud's Simmons, however, was then thrown back to the one and tackled in the end zone on the next play by Don La Framboise for a two-point safety.

Leading 14-6, Belleville took the free kick but was forced to punt after three plays. A roughing call against Robichaud gave Belleville possession again and they promptly drove 48 yards on carries by Van Buhler and Russell. Van Buhler scored from the one and Stillwagon's kick was good.

Robichaud only amassed 69 yards rushing against the formidable Belleville line, while the Tigers netted 715 yards. Simmons connected on three of 12 passes for 12 tries, for 81 yards.

Nine penalties totalling 84 yards also crippled the Bulldogs, members of the new Suburban Athletic Conference.

Russell led all rushers with 86 yards in 23 carries, averaging five yards a try. Jones had 49 yards rushing for Robichaud and 29 through the air.

The Bulldogs travel Friday to Temperance-Bedford.

Ailing Romulus loses opener to Muskegon

An injury-riddled Romulus football team failed to generate enough offense in the first half and recovered in time to avert a shutout in its opening day game Friday at Muskegon Heights.

The Heights struck for 20 points in the first half and made them stand in a 22-8 victory, spoiling the coaching debut of Romulus' Jim Stallings.

"Because of injuries to key players we had to do a lot shifting of personnel," said Stallings who took over the Eagles this year when Bill Hardy resigned to accept a job offer with a college. "In the first half we made a lot of mistakes that cost us the game.

"We settled down in the second half, but it was too late, we couldn't score," he said.

MUSKEGON HEIGHTS, which averaged a 32-8 loss to the Eagles last year, rolled to an early first period touchdown as Dave Smith went in from 12-yards out on a quarterback keeper.

The Heights then put 14 points on the scoreboard in the second quarter and walked into the lockerroom with a comfortable 20-0 edge. Romulus came back in the third 12 minutes to make a game of it.

Andre Parsons' pass interception at midfield set up Romulus' lone TD of the game. Eagle quarterback Herb Miller moved the club on a series of downs to the Muskegon 13-yard line where he sprinted over on an option.

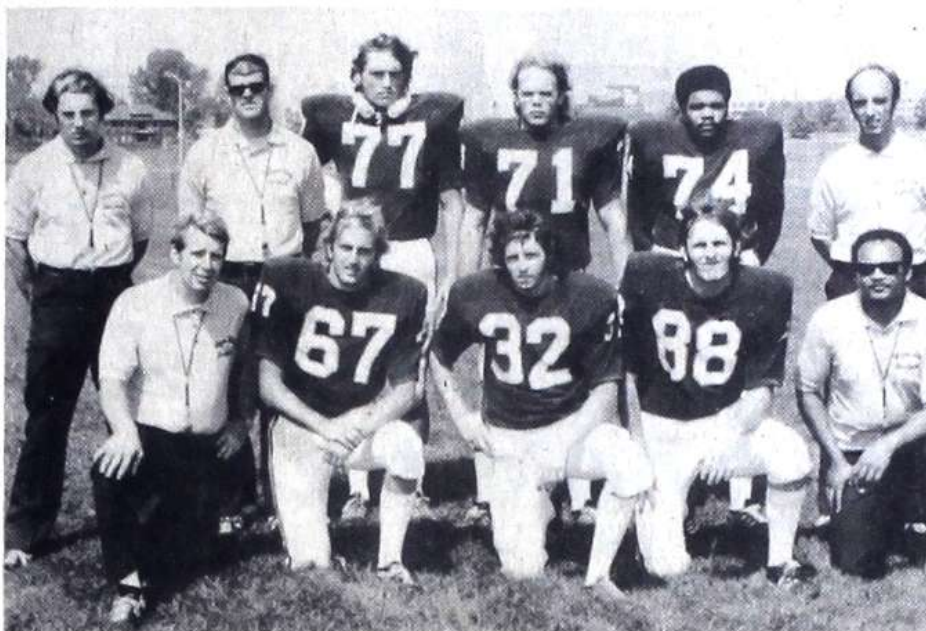

In that seven-play touchdown drive Miller had a couple of first down runs of 21 and 13 yards.

It was the defense that provided the Eagles with their only other points - a safety. Late in the fourth quarter Mike Hunter and Rudy Williams combined to sack the Heights' signal-caller behind the goal line.

"Our defense did the job, there's no doubt about it," related Stallings, "in the second half we gave up 11 yards rushing.

STALLINGS must turn his thoughts to his injured personnel. He's without the services of first string quarterback, Brad Smith, who is nursing an ailing ankle; Darwin Harris, a regular at one of the defensive backfield slots is also out. He has a collarbone injury, while Tom McGhea is also hurt.

The Romulus mentor used a

Huron to host Monroe for conference opener

What do you say when your team loses its football opener 32-0?

Well, if you're New Boston Huron head Coach Jim Rossow you try to remain optimistic, though there is a grim cloud of despair hanging overhead.

Milan capitalized on Huron's miscues and exploded for two touchdowns midway in the second quarter en route to a 32-0 victory over their nonleague rivals.

"We just weren't ready to open up for a varsity game," said Rossow who began his second year as the Chiefs' coach. "Offensively, we got hurt during practice when we lost our big back, Dave Durham."

DURHAM is out with an ankle injury and he also is a doubtful starter for Friday night's Huron League opener with Monroe Catholic Central. Also hurting is fullback Mike Sobodash who sustained a leg injury at Milan.

"We didn't generate much of anything against Milan," continued Rossow, "and, of course, one of the reasons was because we had to do some Romulus' three Little League football teams came out winners Sunday at the expense of the Westland Rockets.

readjusting of positions."

Punting - and defense of punt returns - led to the Chiefs' demise. When all the figuring was over Huron had a mere 10 yards net for a score of punts.

A 54-yard punt return in the second period set up Milan's first TD, then an "old fashioned" lateral after the ballcarrier was hit led to the second score.

The open house will start at 9:30 a.m., Saturday. Everyone is invited to attend this national event.

There will be ten other sportsmen's clubs in attendance. Each club will have exhibits and demonstrations of bait and fly casting, the proper uses of bow and arrows for target shooting and hunting game. Safe handling of firearms and the proper procedures and safety when hunting afield.

The clubs are all affiliated with the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, within district one. There will be a duck blind and decoy setup as when hunting in waterfowl areas. Duck and goose calling will be demonstrated by the Pointe Mouillee Waterfowlers.

There will be fishing tackle exhibits displayed. The U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Soil Conservation Service will have exhibits and pamphlets on how to make fish and wildlife habitats on your lands.

The Department of Natural Resources will be represented by Dan Tucker, game biologist. He will talk on the new put and take pheasant hunting program in the fifteen game areas in Michigan, starting on September 29. He will have live pheasants on display.

The public and sportsmen are invited to the clubhouse and grounds. There are no admission fees. Just come out and celebrate the 3rd annual National Hunting and Fishing Day together.

Strike doesn't stop sports

All boys varsity sports at Belleville High School are still "in operation" despite the current teachers' strike in the Van Buren School District, Athletic Director Harry Hidenfelter reported.

"As of now, the varsity football, cross country and golf programs are still in business," he said Tuesday.

The football team hosts Livonia Bentley Friday in a non-league contest. The Livonia teachers are also out on strike, but Hidenfelter said that the Bentley team "is practicing on schedule. We'll have a game Friday for sure."

However, all girls and junior high sports programs have been suspended during the strike, he said. The sports include girls basketball and swimming and junior high football and cross country.

ExArea gridders shine at WSU

Last year's sophomore quarterback at Wayne State University, Rod Shafer of Garden City East, has transferred to Taylor University of Indiana to study for the ministry, a move arranged by WSU Head Coach Dave Hoover's own minister.

That switch, combined with the graduation of co-captain and last year's break-maker award winner, Pasco Yearby of Inkster, has decimated the rank of western Wayne alumni at WSU.

Outside of soph center Dan Main of Romulus, a Holy Redeemer grad, who is not a starter, the only area men on this year's squad are two freshmen, Keith Anleitner, a guard from Garden City East, and Bill Kelley, a tight end from Westland John Glenn.

SHAHER'S move was clearly good for Ed Skowneski, the quarterback who fought with Shafer all last year for the starting spot. As Wayne State opened its season at WSU Stadium last Saturday with a 19-17 victory over Valparaiso of Indiana, the game was all Skowneski, who has moves somewhat reminiscent of Greg Landry.

Skowneski completed only five of 16 passes for 43 yards, preferred to run. Valparaiso wanted its time covering the Tartar receivers because each time they did, Skowneski took off again, racking up 172 yards to pace the WSU rushing attack.

He scored two WSU touchdowns personally, the first a nine-yard carry off left side and the final one, a last quarter ramble of eight yards for the margin of victory.

WSU has spurred to a 13-0 lead in the second quarter, but the Valpo Crusaders took advantage of a sputtering Wayne defense to go ahead 17-13 after three. Following Skowneski's final tally, the WSU defense stiffened to halt one Valpo drive on an interception and another on a wide field goal.

Saturday WSU travels to Rensselaer, Ind., to meet St. Joseph's.

Huron coach has hands full

By DALE GOWING

What was Monroe Catholic Central's loss, turned out to be New Boston Huron's gain.

Because of the challenge it presented, Catholic Central cross country coach Mike Matthews switched loyalties and accepted the head job at Huron as a replacement for Keith Reed, who guided the Chiefs to a third-place finish in the Huron League last season behind Catholic Central and Grosche II.

And the challenge Matthews anticipated is turning out to be that and more.

The Chiefs dropped their first two meets under Matthews last week, losing to Ida, 19-36, and Riverview, 26-29, and were scheduled to do battle yesterday with league foe Tecumseh.

Matthews admitted that the 1973 season will be an "uphill struggle" because of the large number of freshmen on the squad and the lack of veteran runners.

"We have only two returning lettermen from last year," Matthews sighed, "Melvin Sheats and Tim Dibley." Aside from those two seniors, all the others are newcomers.

"It may take a while for us to build a real contender, mainly because we have too many young runners," said the first-year coach.

"I guess this is going to be what they call a rebuilding year."

Touch team is needed

The Romulus Recreation Department needs at least one more team for its Men's Touch Football League.

Interested teams or individuals should contact the Recreation Department at 941-3337.

He said, "The moratorium committee of the Van Buren Twp. Planning Commission has, during the past 180 days, attempted to make a total impact study of zoning as it affects growth of our Twp. and the safety and quality of the life of our residents. As you will recall, the Planning Commission recommended a moratorium on zoning due to obvious deficiencies in our present zoning and related ordinances." See Resolution on this page.

Motion Hedman, support Blend, to assign the job of selecting a new Planning Consultant to the Planning Commission, and bring that recommendation to the Township Board. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion Kuchta, support Cullin, to have Clerk read into the minutes and adopt the Resolution to extend the zoning moratorium. Copy attached. Motion carried unanimously.

Romulus postmaster explains

Zip Code on 85 per cent of mail

Zip Code—the five-digit number following the state in United States addresses—now appears on more than 85 per cent of first class mail, according to Postmaster W. J. Laginess of Romulus.

The coding of mail has become even more important in recent months with a growing share of first class letters sorted on machines equipped with the zip mail translator (ZMT).

"With this computerized unit, the letter sorting machine operator simply keys the Zip Code appearing on the envelope," Laginess said. "The Zip Code is then translated so the envelope is routed to the bin which will give it the best transportation."

PREVIOUSLY, postal clerks were required to learn the complex local and regional sorting schemes that are carried in the ZMT computer. Laginess said Zip Code usage is running about 85 per cent on first class mail going from one business to another. "The mail from the average family to businesses does much better, however, with the percentage nearing 90 per cent," he said. "This reflects the near universal use of Zip Code on business stationary, including return address, order forms, coupons and reply envelopes."

He said Zip Code use by other classes of mail includes: airmail letters, 91 per cent, and parcel post, 96 per cent. The use of Zip Code has been mandatory since 1967 for second class and bulk third class rates.

Laginess explained the five Zip Code digits as "a telescopic sequence," focusing on successively smaller areas. The first digit points to a geographically large area, the second and third digits to one of 556 sectional centers—key post offices which serve 30 to 200 or more smaller postoffices—or to one major city post office. The last two digits stand for the post office or postal station of ultimate destination.

"FOR EXAMPLE," he said, "Zip number 21750 means that the letter is bound for the Middle Atlantic states—represented by the figure 2. The digits 17 single out the Frederick sectional center in Maryland. Accordingly, the sorter deposits the letter into an outgoing 217 pouch."

The letter, together with all other 217 mail arrives at Frederick, and other sorters re-route the letter to its destination - Hancock, Maryland, as specified by the digits 50.

The Van Buren Township Fire Department No. 1 located in downtown, Belleville answered 16 fire calls during August, according to Bert G. Smith, department secretary.

"Uncle Bob" Rev. Robert Seigler, a special children's speaker, is giving special prizes to boys and girls in non-denominational services at 7 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Rev. Ralph Brandenburg has spent two terms in missionary service in the Dominican Republic, where his experiences have been as varied as has been the attitude there toward the Bible.

He has more recently worked in the Republic's second largest city, Santiago, where he was associated with a growing church and a Christian Day School operated by the national church.

A native of Fort Wayne, Ind., Rev. Brandenburg is a graduate of Fort Wayne Bible College with a Bachelor of Science in Missions degree.

Prior to his entering missionary service in 1965, he was the pastor of the North Pekin Missionary Church for two years.

Special meetings for children are set

Special children's meetings are planned at the Zion Missionary Church, 89 S. Edgemont St., Belleville, during Sunday services and 7 p.m. weekday services from Sept. 23-30.

Sunday services include Sunday School at 10 a.m. and children's church at 11 a.m.,

JA to recruit area students

Junior Achievement (JA) representatives from local business and industry are recruiting at area high schools this month for the 1973 JA program scheduled to begin the week of Oct. 15. Some 200 volunteers are involved in JA recruitment — talking with young people about the program and accepting applications.

Each year thousands of high school students throughout southeastern Michigan learn about the business world and the American free enterprise system by operating their own small-scale corporations in JA.

Students meet one evening a week, Monday through Thursday, from 7-9 p.m. at their area JA center.

In addition to learning money management, organizational and leadership skills and effective decision-making processes, young people in JA also gain valuable business experience which proves helpful in future job situations.

During the year several contests and social events are held and local competition can lead to regional and national recognition. Regional conferences and the National Annual Junior Achievers Conference always draw large numbers of JA young people

NEW FACILITIES — This artist's sketch shows the combination bathhouse and food bar building to be located at the new $227,533.50 Olympic-size swimming pool site which will soon be under construction at Willow Metropark near New Boston. Holding the drawing is William E. Kreger, Wayne County's representative on the seven-member Board of Commissioners of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, who said the pool will have three use areas: one each for children and beginning swimmers, diving and general swimming. Expected to open sometime in 1975, funds for the pool are a part of a $1.8 million grant of state recreation bond money administered through the Department of Natural Resources in Lansing.

Park pool to accommodate 900

Within the next few weeks ground is expected to be broken for the construction of a $227,533.50 Olympic-size swimming pool to be located in Willow Metropark, a 1,500-acre site under development near New Boston. The pool will accommodate 900 people at one time.

The pool, part of a special activities complex, was included in the master plan of Willow Metropark when the project was approved by the Board of Commissioners of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority (HCMA) in the early 1960's. "The authority has gradually been expanding facilities at this new park since the initial contracts for roads and picnic areas were awarded in 1966," said William E. Kreger, Wayne County's representative on the seven-member HCMA Board.

WILLOW PARK now consists of a main interior park road and several picnic-playground areas bordering the Huron River which have been in public use since opening in mid-1970.

Authority planners feel that the swimming pool, combined with an intensive activities area, will serve as a major attraction in the southwestern portion of the Western Wayne County region which urgently needs outdoor recreation such as swimming, picnicking and activity-type facilities.

A major park entrance road is planned for Willow Metropark at the junction of the new I-275 Freeway and West Road, which will become a major point of entry for park visitors from the area. This will replace the temporary entrance located on Willow Road, east of the Village of Willow, between Waltz Road and Huron River Drive.

"In the development of Willow Park we are attempting to follow anticipated family use, with sports and game facilities for participation by children and young adults while providing scenic features and passive recreation such as picnicking for persons of all ages," Kreger said.

FUNDS FOR THE pool and special activities complex are a part of a four-year-old $1.8 million grant from the state recreation bond issue. The contract for the pool in the amount of $227,533.50 was awarded to Paddock Pools by the State Administrative Board for the Department of Natural Resources last week.

During 1972 several contracts totaling $1,180,730.00 were awarded from the state recreation bond money as part of the special activities area, including the entrance road and parking lot grading, general work on the concession and bathhouse buildings, food service equipment, utility construction and electrical and mechanical work.

Also in 1971-72, the authority spent more than $142,216.00 in contracts for the development of Winter Hill, Acorn Knoll and Indian Ridge picnic sites, including water supply systems and entrance roads and parking lots.

"Under the general improvement budget we have been spending about $250,000 to $300,000 during the past several years developing facilities at Willow Metropark," Kreger said.

HE ADDED that improvements consisted of landscaping, comfort stations, water and sanitary facilities, roads, picnic areas and parking lots.

"It has taken us about 10 years to develop the present facilities at Willow Metropark which will become increasingly important to the residential, industrial and population expansion of the area," Kreger said. "A major improvement will be the addition of this swimming pool, which is expected to be one of the finest in the state when completed sometime in 1975."

A deck area of 25,777 square feet will surround the 12,872 square foot Olympic-size swimming pool.

The pool will have three sections: a shallow swimming area for children and beginning swimmers; a diving area and three diving boards, and a general swimming area, which is designed for advanced and adult swimmers and use for competitive swim meets.

The pool will have reinforced concrete tank with marble plaster finish and stainless steel gutter, with construction to comply with code requirements of the Michigan Department of Public Health Division of Engineering, Swimming Pools.

SEVERAL MONTHS ago construction began on the food bar and bathhouse buildings, which are two separate units joined by a canopy-type roof over the walk-through area. The food bar area will have an enclosed dining area, patron service area, food preparation space plus areas for storage and refrigeration.

The bathhouse will have heated showers, coin-operated lockers for clothes-checking, a first-aid station, public restrooms, work areas and space for an office and utilities.

"With the opening of these additional facilities at Willow Metropark and the new Oakwoods Metropark, the 1975 the authority's expansion will provide 4,400 acres of HCMA land in public use in Wayne County," said David O. Laidlaw, director of the HCMA, which serves the citizens of Wayne, Macomb, Oakland, Livingston and Washtenaw counties.

Included in the 4,400 acre figure are these HCMA parks: Lower Huron Metropark (1,200 acres) near Belleville, which has served more than 24 million visitors since it opened in the mid-1950's; Willow Metropark (1,500 acres) near New Boston, which opened in mid-1970; and the new Oakwoods Metropark (1,700 acres), which will feature nature study facilities when it opens in 1974-75.

The seven other HCMA Parks in public use include Metropark near Mt. Clemens, Stony Creek Metropark near Utica, Marshbank Metropark near Pontiac, Kensington Metropark near Milford and three picnic-playground parks in Washtenaw County.

instead of bankers hours.

We know you can't always get to the bank during bankers hours. So we did away with them. And came up with People Hours.

People Hours are extra long hours. From 10:00 a.m. till 7:00 p.m. Monday, Thursday and Friday. They make it pretty convenient for you to do your banking.

And that's not just for check-cashing. When our offices are open, they're open to handle our complete range of banking services. From loans to mortgages to savings accounts to checking accounts to everything.

People Hours.

They mean you can bank when you want to. Instead of when most bankers want you to.

"That's my bank"

MANUFACTURERS BANK

If it weren't for our people, we'd be just another good bank.

People Hours start September 24th at these convenient offices: Plymouth Road at Evergreen • Fenkell at Hubbell • Joy Road at Stahelin • Goddard at Shook • Wayne Road at Warren • Wayne Road at Canyon Drive • Joy Road at Oxbow • Westland Center • West Chicago at Schaefer
